LOVE OF THE GAME

THE CLASS OF 2010 WOULD LIKE TO DEDICATE THIS YEAR'S PROCTORIAN TO THE MEMORY OF MRS. MADELINE SHERMAN

"There's too much activity in here, it's getting old, this is ridiculous."

Every day we would walk into Mrs. Sherman's US History class, and this is what we would hear. Sure, we were a rowdy class, but she loved us in her own way. You could find Mrs. Sherman teaching her History class, or in the library. There was the occasional time you would find her stuck in the elevator, but her characteristic yell could be heard within 50 feet. You could also find her walking down the hallway with her cart and horn, beeping people out of her way and clearing the halls.

Mrs. Sherman devoted 36 years of her life teaching History and educating young people. Not just educating us in the history of the U.S., though we found it extremely helpful, but also the ways of the world. Mrs. Sherman taught us that if we wanted change, we needed to BE that change. It sounds corny, but it's true. You just can't sit on your behind and wait for it to happen, you have to make it happen.

Often called the "Sherminator", "The Tank", or other names that instilled fear, Mrs. Sherman taught us that people might not always be as they seem. When we heard about Mrs. Sherman as freshman and sophomores, we were shaking in our boots. We were scared for our lives. We had heard horror stories from those juniors that she had in her class and we didn't want that for ourselves. But, after spending time with Mrs. Sherman, you could tell that there was more to her than what originally met the eye. She was really a soft teddy bear. She was hard on people because she wanted them to do well and succeed, but she was always there for you. A good heart under an intimidating exterior.

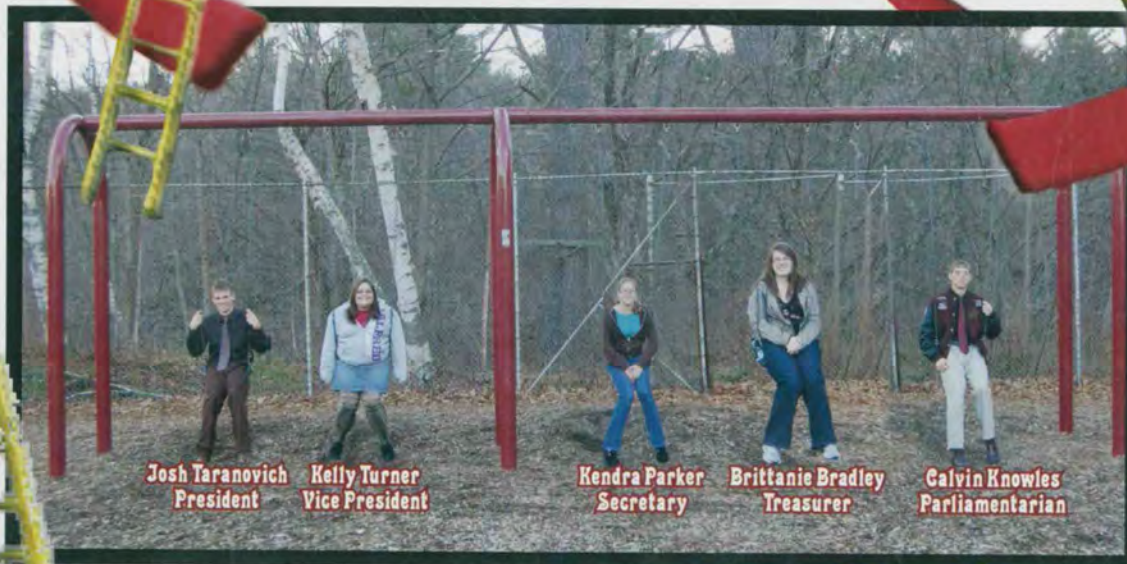

We wanted to take this time to thank Mrs. Sherman for all she did for us, whether it be drilling the U.S. Cabinet members into our brains or just listening to us when we needed it, she won't be forgotten. It turned our world upside down when Mrs. Sherman passed away in the summer of 2009, but we will always have her memories and we will keep her quote in mind... "No one ever tells me I can't do anything."

Ever since I came to Proctor everyone made me feel welcomed. I've made some great friends here that I would never trade for anything in the world. I will never forget the trip to New York City or Boston but I have to admit the ride to and from was one of my favorite parts of both trips. Gym will always be one of my favorites. English class... Being an art aide is something I'll never forget. Thanks everyone and I'm gonna miss you all <3

Boys + Girls State

Each summer, the American Legion sponsors Boys State. Girls State, though missing from the scene for a few years, returned in 2007 thanks to the American Legion Auxiliary. Delegates are selected based upon scholarship leadership character, service and interest in government. Boys State took place at Lyndon State College and Girls State at Castleton State College. While there, Josh Ivanovitch and Kelly Turner each participated in a week-long mock government.

High School Peer Leaders

The Peer Leaders are committed to promoting healthy lifestyles and represent an "umbrella" organization of many helping groups within our school. Peer Leaders are affiliated with DVX (Our Voices exposed), VTLSP/SADD, and serve as the GSA for the school. Peer leaders focus on many different issues including bullying, harassment, making healthy choices, drug, alcohol and tobacco prevention, seat belt and texting while driving safety issues, as well as service to the school and community. Peer Leaders sponsor Red Ribbon Week and the NHS Leadership Academy. The group is advised by Mrs. Moirer.

National Honor Society

Membership in the Redfield Proctor Chapter of the National Honor Society is the highest academic honor the faculty can bestow upon students in grades 11 and 12. Students must demonstrate excellence in scholarship, leadership, service, and character. MHS completes both group and individual service projects throughout the year. Group projects include food drives, providing free childcare for town meeting and conducting the penny war during Winter Carnival. The MHS is advised by Ms. Russo.

Innovative High Peer Leaders

The National Geography Bee involves seventh and eighth grade students. The elimination rounds take place here at HHS where students compete to represent us at the state level. Evan Smith represented HHS by competing in Middlebury at the state meet. Maria Cayia and Riley Combs were our second and third runners up. Geo Bee is led by Mrs. Topping.

Geo Bee

The Junior High Peer Leaders are committed to making healthy choices and serve as the middle school branch of the Peer Leaders. In addition to assisting in the organization of Red Ribbon Week they hold an annual fund-raiser for Muscular Dystrophy, the Toys for Kids drive at Christmas, and participate in the Leadership Academy. The group is advised by Mrs. Mohner.

GAPP 2009

This year's GAPP exchange, the ninth in the program's history, took place during June and July of 2009. It was a huge success and an amazing experience overall. The group consisted of Kayla Trombley, Emily Tabor, Mikayla McCormack, Colleen Knowles, Kieren Buttrick, Calvin Knowles, Adam Wade, David Sander, Zach Holzworth, Cody Greene, and Keagan McDonnell. Frau Burke, Proctor's German teacher, led the group; they were accompanied by good-natured Mr. Bloodworth (who speaks no German) and his video camera.

The students' first two weeks in Germany were spent in and around the historic city of Weimar, Thuringia. Here students lived with their host families, attended school, and toured nearby historic places and attractions. Among the excursions were a trip to the Wartburg Castle, Buchenwald, and the Schillerhaus. Also for the first time in the Proctor GAPP exchange the students toured Berlin on bicycles. On one weekend many students went to the Galaxsea water park and to Dresden.

After two weeks in Weimar, the GAPP group took a five-hour train ride to München where they spent their last four days. While in the area they toured attractions like the Castle Neuschwanstein, the Olympic Stadium, the Marienplatz Glockenspiel, the city of Salzburg, Austria, and the Mirabell Gardens. The GAPPies shared some unforgettable experiences during their three weeks in Germany (and a few hours in Austria). In September 2009, the GAPP students' German Hosts came to Proctor to visit the American students for three weeks.

Spain 2010

On April 9, 2010, thirteen students; Kristi Denko, Courtney Ethier, Andrew Goodhue, Jenifer Leary, Joseph Mckirryher, Kaitlynn Protivansky, Brielle Robinson, Sarah Salatino, Matthew Scarzello, Christopher Thomas, Taylor Trombley, Kelly Turner, Alex Vida, and two teachers; Señora Talos and Mr. Eastman, set out to travel across the Atlantic. For a few of the students, this was their first experience flying and also the first trip abroad. The group met up in the capitol city of Madrid, Spain where their tour began and they hit the ground running.

As soon as they put their suitcases down in their first hotel, they were off on their first walking tour. After two nights in Madrid, Toledo was next and students got to see the Cathedral of Toledo and they experienced a much older city in Spain. The next day, they visited the Alhambra in Granada, and some of the students went to a Flamenco show, where they were able to see the traditional dance of the Spanish gypsies. In Seville, the students were able to see the largest gothic cathedral in the world. The next morning, they woke up bright and early so they could travel to Morocco. As they crossed the Strait of Gibraltar they knew that they were in for a real adventure. They weren't sure if they were on a ferry boat or a roller coaster. They walked around a Medina, visited a traditional Moroccan pharmacy, and a carpet show. The last few days, were spent in Torremolinos. A city that is no bigger than Burlington, they felt comfortable there as opposed to the hustle and bustle of Madrid. The flight home, though it wasn't their original flight, turned out well and they arrived home on April 20.

The trip was not a vacation for these students, but it was a learning experience. Having to use the Spanish language with native speakers was something new, but it helped improve skills. It was also a cultural experience. Trying new foods, being in a new place, having everything around you in a different language; it can be shocking at first, but it's good for you. They also learned something else: how to go with the flow. When there was a small volcanic eruption that sent an ash cloud into the air that shut down most airports in Europe, they weren't able to get home on time, they learned that sometimes, you can't plan everything!

In the words of Ulrich: "The volcano burps, and half of Europe shuts down."

Thanks to the Academic Boosters, we were able to enjoy the classical foundations of African music and dance and learn about old and modern AFRICAN MUSIC FROM ADINKRA. Adinkra's music uses traditional Ghanaian Atenteben bamboo flutes and a variety of African drums.

The NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY INDUCTION was held on March 26 in the library. The inductees were Calvin Knowles, Cody Greene, Keagan McDonnell, Carlton Kellogg, and Alyssa Zsido. Peg Bartlett was the Keynote speaker at the event.

The theme of this year's HALLOWEEN PARADE was "Thriller" by Michael Jackson. The band won "Best Costumed Marching Band". Amber Euber represented Proctor as our Pumpkin Princess.

Mr. Laramie's US HISTORY STUDENTS made a movie depicting the life and times of the quarry workers on the Bomoseen Slate Trail. Students really got into it! In fact, you might have seen them walking around the school in their turn of the century costumes days before they shot their movie!!!

The GAPP students participated in a multitude of activities while they were in America including, seeing the Rock of Ages, the rope course at Rutland Police Academy, visiting the Wilson Castle and the VT Teddy Bear Factory. They were here during soccer season and Homecoming where they enthusiastically waved the German flag.

YEAR IN REVIEW

The OUTING CLUB ventured out to explore the scenery and beauty Vermont has to offer as they hiked their way to the top of Deer's Leap between Killington and Mendon.

The freshman class spent 3 days and 2 nights at the MULBERT OUTDOOR CENTER where they worked on team building skills; outdoors, on the ropes course, and even in the kitchen as they shared daily chores. Each small group would argue that THEIR team leader was the best, whether it was dictator Kate, or Spencer, or Stuart, but we all know who was REALLY the best!

The ONE ACT FESTIVAL was held at Long Trail School this year on March 20th. PHANTOM THEATER performed the play "Once Upon a Wolf". Amanda Zuber received an award for Excellence in Acting and Kelly Turner received an award for Excellence in Directing. Congratulations to the entire cast & crew for receiving the Best Audience Participation Award.

Poet-in-Residence LELAND KINSEY visited our school in March. He was a guest in many of our English classes, teaching us about poetry, riddles, and descriptions. At the end of his visit he selected students to participate in a poetry reading, where they read their own poetry to a live audience.

YEAR IN REVIEW

PHS added a SERVICE LEARNING component to the school year. We began with an assembly where we learned about local people who are serving the community; people like Reverend Russ Gates from the Union Church who works with other volunteers to build ramps in order to make houses wheelchair accessible.

Classes then met several times during the spring to plan their own project. At the end of April classes were canceled for a day or 2 for some so students could implement their idea. In addition, each class also contributed both time and muscle to the town of Proctor as they raked and cleared brush in and around town.

The freshmen read to preschoolers and donated their time at the PROCTOR CHILDREN'S CENTER.

Juniors and Seniors COOKED AND SERVED A FREE LUNCH for the community at St. Dominic's church.

Sophomores put on a COMMUNITY DANCE bringing those who attended through the decades as they danced to music from days gone by.

YEAR IN REVIEW

The 8th grade put together 10 packages to send to our LOCAL TROOPS OVERSEAS full of letters, gifts, and munchies including handmade friendship bracelets.

The 7th grade collected items from 7th grade families and donated them to the OPEN DOOR MISSION in memory of Donna Baccei, long time Mission director and grandmother of Richard Baccei. Students toured the Mission and learned about the services the Mission provides for the homeless in Rutland.

Winter Carnival was both competitive and fun. This year was the first year since 2005 that we've been able to play ice games. Even though hockey wasn't a part of the mix, everyone made the best of it and enjoyed the relays and broom hockey. There was little snow, but the juniors and seniors did manage to find a patch of ice for their tug of war competition. We were challenged to get creative this year; a can sculpture competition was added to the games. And what did we discover? We aren't a very creative group! In spite of that, we did manage to collect 312 items for the Proctor/Pittsford Food Shelf during our Food For the Heart/Winter Carnival Drive. The director of the food shelf was very pleased and thankful for Proctor's efforts! The sophomores surprised everyone on Winter Carnival day when they filled their empty penny jar with a backpack full of pennies. At the last moment the juniors responded by topping off the almost full jar with an obscene amount of silver coins. In the end, the juniors won the penny war, and together we managed to raise money for the Lymphoma & Leukemia Society. In the heat of competition it was risky to be on the floor during the chariot races, as both the juniors and seniors were determined to make it around the cones first, with or without their chariot riders. Overall, it was a very successful year for winter carnival at Proctor High School. With the addition of ice games and the entertainment of the chariot races, students and faculty alike were caught up in the day's excitement.

behind the scenes

We chose BOARD GAMES as our design theme this year because board games remind us of way back when we were growing up. Did you play Go Fish or Candy Land when you were little? We did! If you're like us, thinking about the different board games you played when you were little makes you think of other memories too from way back in the day, like who you played with... maybe it was your grandma or your best friend.

We hope the same thing happens with our yearbook. When you see a picture, we hope the memories come flooding back. That picture of the orange relay during inter carnival??? If you were there you'll remember laughing so hard that some 'you actually cried!! And the ones of the Halloween Parade??? Whether you were arching in the parade, on the float, dancing to "Thriller", or cheering on PHS from the crowd, you'll remember being absolutely soaked to the skin, but having so much fun that being wet didn't really matter! And when you see a picture of the poet island Kinsey? Maybe you'll remember how hard you worked on your poetry and how good it felt when he liked your work and took your writing seriously. Each picture tells a story or holds a memory and we don't want you to forget!

And then there's the other part; HOW you play a game, whether it's hangman, Monopoly, Soccer or Basketball. JT said it best on his Facebook page the day before the big game, "last game tomorrow at 12... leavin' it all on the court." Win or lose, though winning is SWEET, how you play the game is so important. We have not to be proud of this year and can continue to hold our heads high. Go Phantoms! your 'game' of life, we hope you play your game in a way that will make us proud say that YOU are a PHANTOM.

Our TEAM posing with some of our favorite games...

Music always accompanied our designing in some shape or form. Our favorite music memory? That would have to be the day the boys sang their hearts out karaoke-style to Chicago's "You're the Inspiration"

Matt with his favorite game!!! Scouting out the perfect spot for the senior class photo:

Anyone wanna play UpWords???

Note to self: Next time make sure someone knows how to get where we are going!! Luckily it was the perfect fall day for a walk.

Thanks, JT, for the theme idea. It all started with YOU!!

Testing out our idea for the all school photo: decided to go with our plan of trying to make a game board...

Dropping the ball... ..again and again

I thought someone took care of that!!
We can't build collages if we don't have pictures!!
Who's contacted their businesses to sell ads?
NATE!!???!! How'd he get in HERE???

And picking up all of the balls we dropped... ..in April & May!!

The girls examining Cody's Proctor $$$ art work for the cover and end sheets.

Deleting too many irreplaceable pictures that would have been really nice to have in the yearbook!!

Matt: "Is it HOT in here???" pause...
"Well, Kendra is in the room so..."

Designing our end sheets.

Trying to create a tab with leaders for our Table of Contents... did the computer cooperate? YESYESYESYESYES!!

Just another normal day in Yearbook...

Mission FAILED, lol !!!
...so we went with plan B

The evolution of our All School Photo
Our first idea:

Too busy! Too abstract!

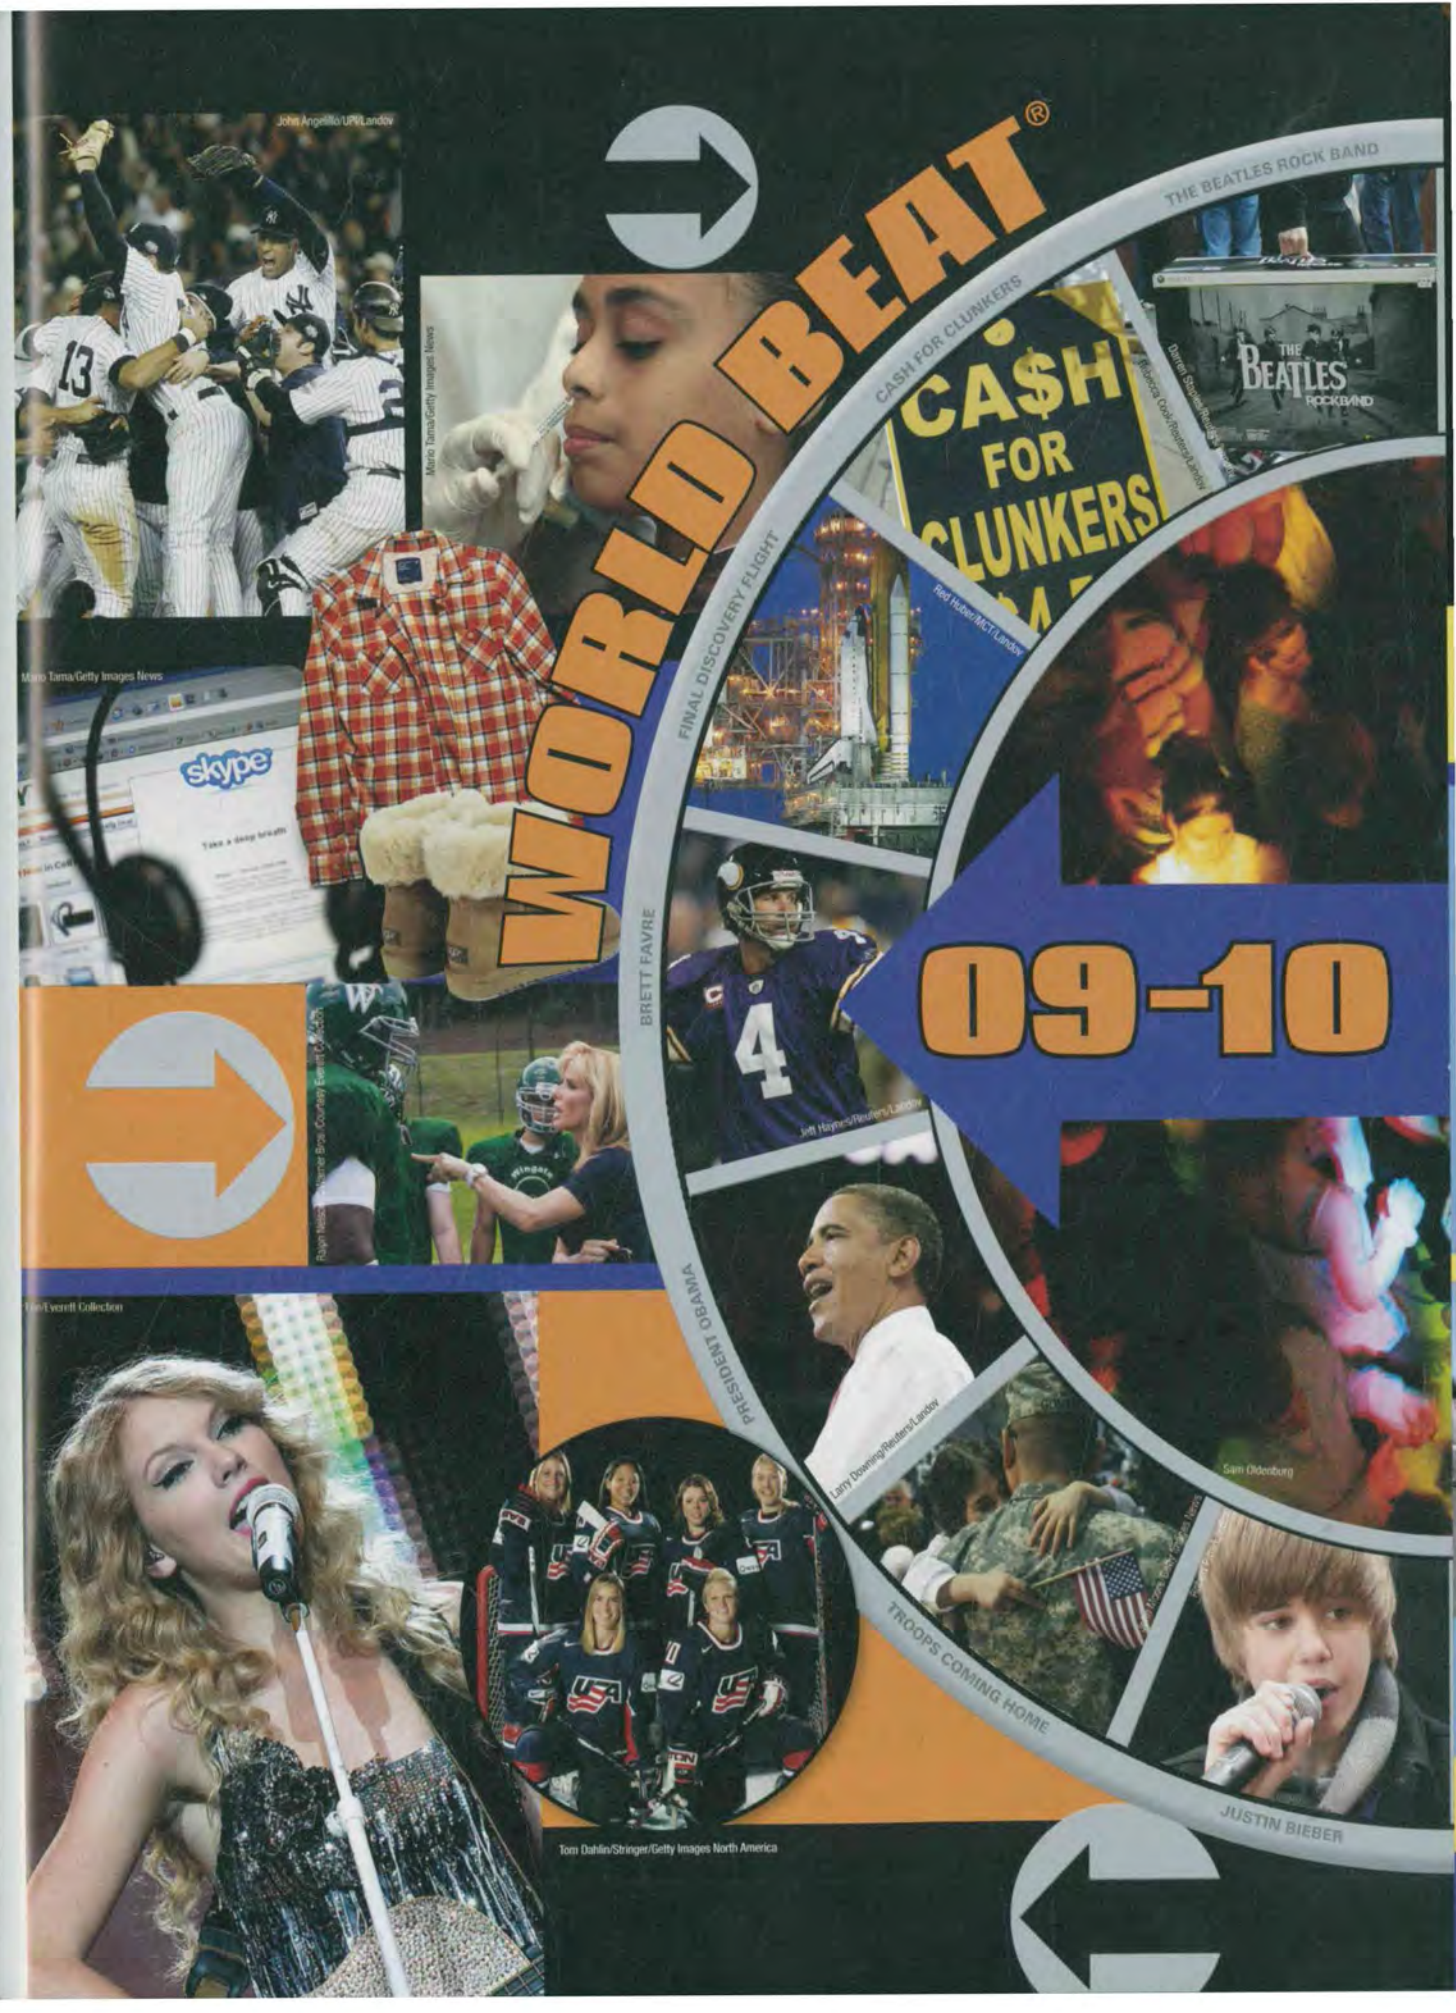

Still not clear enough...

A color background certainly doesn't help!

Teachers missing. People cut off. A workable idea.

Why people doesn't work hard to see! People too small in relation to the rest.

Much better but the pedestal takes up way too much room. We're getting close...
